

Foel FRIENDS of the CENTRAL LIBRARY

The Friends of the Central Library will welcome American author, Elin Hilderbrand to speak on Tuesday, April 30, 2024, 7:30pm as part of their distinguished author series. Recognized for her work in the romance genre, Hilderbrand wears the title of “queen of the beach read” with pride! She has sold roughly 10 million books, with many of the 27 published novels achieving bestseller list status. Hilderbrand is a graduate of Johns Hopkins University, attended the Iowa Writers Workshop and calls Nantucket Island her home.

Tickets can be purchased at the Solvay Bank Box Office, M-F 10am-3pm, 315-435-2121 or through Ticketmaster at foelsyracuse.org.

The Friends of the Central Library will also be announcing next year’s 30th season author line-up at this author talk.
